Tutoring Experience

Since 2013, I have been tutoring students in IB History and other curricula, such as Cambridge and Edexcel. My experience includes working with learners across different countries, including Japan and Switzerland, and guiding them to achieve top results in their exams. I also provide support for the IB Extended Essay, helping students with in-depth historical research and writing.

In addition to classroom teaching, I've worked with international students online, offering comprehensive curriculum delivery and one-on-one tutoring. My students have received prestigious awards and high scores in their board exams, and I take pride in helping them excel academically.
